'Facts to Guide Missile Probe,' Says Johnson

Democrat Declares Politics Won't Decide Course of Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said today the facts—and not any political considerations—will determine the course of a senatorial inquiry into the nation's missile program.

The Senate Armed Services Preparedness subcommittee will begin a series of hearings next week in an atmosphere charged by efforts of some Republican and Democratic leaders to fix on the opposing party the blame for lagging missile and satellite production.

Former President Truman has charged that the Eisenhower administration permitted a unified missile program he had instituted to disintegrate. Republican National Chairman Meade ALCORN has accused Democrats in Congress of voting to cut missile expenditures.

Johnson, who heads the Preparedness subcommittee, made it clear in a telephone interview from his home in Johnson City, Tex., he does not believe the committee will be swayed by the political debate touched off with the Russian Sputnik launchings.

"The committee has operated under Democratic presidents and Republican presidents and we have always called things as we saw them," Johnson said. "Sen. Bridges (R-NH) was one of the first to demand the kind of an investigation we are undertaking." Bridges is senior Republican on the subcommittee.

"We will review the whole picture of the progress made in missile development, find out the facts and tell them to the country," Johnson continued. "What course the investigation takes will depend on the facts."

In El Paso, Tex., Tuesday night, Sen. Anderson (D-NM) contended that Russia is "two full years" ahead of the United States in missiles and predicted it will be two years before this country launches an earth satellite "of any significance."

Skeleton Identified As That of Missing George Eichler, 75

A skeleton discovered Tuesday afternoon in a swamp area near the Doug Turner Engineering plant, just south of Salem on the Lisbon Road, has been identified as that of George Eichler, 75, of the Pidgeon Road.

The skeleton was found about 500 yards west of the plant after George Vollmer, an employee, saw a dog playing with a skull Tuesday morning. The discovery led to a search for the rest of the skeleton.

Eichler's identity was determined by a set of false teeth found near the skeleton and a pair of glasses that family members said were his. A flashlight owned by Eichler was also found near the skeleton.

The aged man, who wandered away from his home last winter, is believed to have died of exposure.

Born in Larimer, Pa., Jan. 19, 1882, he was the son of Englebert and Elizabeth Hare Eichler. On Sept. 27, 1906 he married Minerva J. Eisman, who survives.

A retired Pennsylvania Railroad conductor, he was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the I.O.O.F.

Besides his wife, he leaves five sons, George, Thomas, Charles and Roy of Salem and James of Monaca, Pa.; a daughter, Minerva Eichler of Salem; 20 grandchildren; four great-grandchildren; two brothers, Thomas of Monaca and Joseph of Hermine, Pa.; and four sisters, Mrs. Emmett Hart and Mrs. Mary Smith of Chester, W. Va., Mrs. Betty Craig of East Liverpool and Mrs. Melba Reynolds of Conneville, Pa.

A daughter, Myrtle, died in 1925.

Services will be Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Bieber Memorial Funeral Home, with Rev. Harold Deitch officiating. Interment will be in Hanover Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday from 12:30 p.m. until the time of service.

City Pond Awaits Only Freezing Weather

A five-acre ice skating pond will be ready for the city's skaters, come freezing weather.

The converted ball field at Memorial Park at the north edge of the city was recently flooded by diverting water from a nearby stream. After winter weather sets in, youngsters and oldsters can skate to their heart's content.

Lee Burton, superintendent of parks and playgrounds, is shown placing a sign at the pond site which appeals to the public to help keep the skating pond ship-shape. Looking on are three members of the Youth Center (l. to r.) Jennie Ross, Karen Smith and Joyce McElroy.

The sign was erected because vandals have been throwing rocks and other debris into the water. "This will become a hazard to skaters after the ice has formed," Mr. Burton explained. He urged parents to restrain their children from tossing objects into the pond.

The ice skating pond will be open daily all winter. A warming shelter will be erected by the Park Commission.

Deming Strike Parley Fails

Another Meeting Set For Thursday

Although "some progress" was made during Tuesday's six-hour-long negotiations, no settlement was reached between representatives of CIO Local 2463 and the Deming Co., according to William Powell of Youngstown, a member of the federal mediation and conciliation service.

Another meeting has been called by Powell for Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at the Deming Co. offices.

Yesterday afternoon's session was the third conference mediated by Powell in an attempt to resolve the strike of some 450 Deming Co. union workers which is in its 20th day.

Union spokesmen at yesterday's session included Edward J. Hill and, sub district director of United Steelworkers District 26, and the union negotiating committee comprised of Steve Kress, union president; Gerald Callahan, vice president; Leroy McCluggage, financial secretary; Alfred Crawford, recording secretary; Myron DeJane, secretary-treasurer; Clyde Penell, grievance man; and Gail Bartchly, job evaluation chairman.

Company representatives were Ed Kosmo, Deming Co. industrial relations man, and Harvey Rector of Akron, company attorney.

Production has been halted at the plant since midnight, Oct. 31, when the union contract with the pump manufacturing firm expired and workers went on strike. Picketing began the morning of Nov. 1 and has been continuous since.

Two Men Injured As Car Hits Culvert

Two men were hurt and another arrested in two area traffic mishaps which occurred Tuesday. John Howard, 25, of East Liverpool, received a severe laceration of the lower lip, and Max Hutchinson, 25, of East Liverpool, sustained lacerations of both knees when the car driven by Howard went off the road and struck a culvert on Rt. 30, one mile north of East Liverpool, at 7 p.m.

The men were treated at Youngstown South Side Hospital.

A car operated by Samuel Stanbaugh, 19, of Canfield missed a curve and ripped out a row of small trees on Rt. 45, three miles south of Salem, at 4:15 p.m.

Stanbaugh was cited for reckless driving, patrolmen reported.

Say Rebels in Algeria Must Not Secure Guns

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and France reportedly have agreed to a plan for supplying Tunisia with Western arms in such a way that French troops can cool and they can catch up the Atlantic Alliance.

Diplomats said Secretary of State Dulles and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau reached the agreement during a three-hour talk at the State Department Tuesday.

Dulles and Pineau covered other topics, including France's two-year fight against Algerian rebels and President Eisenhower's proposals to breathe new life into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Sat in on NATO Talks

Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956, sat in on the NATO part of the talks. Stevenson is acting as Democratic consultant on plans to strengthen NATO.

Officials said Dulles and Pineau agreed that Western arms given must not be permitted to fall into the hands of rebels in neighboring Algeria.

They agreed to do this through close consultation among themselves, Britain and Tunisia. In the Report Cites High Cost of Hillsdale Sewer Project

The cost of the proposed Hillsdale sanitary sewer project will exceed the maximum legal amount available from special assessment bonds because of the excessive amount of rock that must be dug in laying the line.

This statement was read from a report received last night by City Council from Paul V. Christopher, a representative of the State Health Department, who made a study of the sewer problem in south Salem.

The areas having the sewer problem include the west side of S. Broadway, Rt. 45 south of Cedar St., and the Oak St. extension.

Christopher suggested that City Solicitor James D. Primm Jr. advise Council regarding methods of financing the project.

The city appears to be well aware of sewer problems, has had sewer plans drawn and has obtained petitions from land owners concerning the assessment for the sewers when they are completed, the report concluded.

The report was turned over to Primm for additional study.

2 Countians Get Prison Terms

4 Men Sentenced To Reformatory

LISBON — Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp Tuesday sentenced two men to the Ohio State Penitentiary at Columbus and four to the state reformatory at Mansfield.

Donald C. Russell, 32, of East Liverpool, was sentenced to prison for one to 20 years for carnal knowledge of a girl under 16 years of age, and Edward Norman, 33, of Leontonia RD 2, was sentenced to the penitentiary for one to 20 years for carnal knowledge of a minor girl and one to 10 years for incest. Norman must serve his terms consecutively. Norman was convicted by a jury; Russell waived a jury trial and was found guilty by Judge Sharp.

James Sorrell, 23, Donald Curl, 23, both of East Palestine, Glenn Curl, 23, of Negley and James Booher, 22, of Columbiana, were each sentenced to one to 15 years in the reformatory for the breaking and entering of the uninhabited dwelling of Marie Wallace of Route 39 near Chetla's Lake.

They were also given one to 15 years for the breaking and entering of the uninhabited dwelling of Bruce Buckners at East Palestine RD 1. The terms must be served consecutively.

The four pleaded not guilty at arraignment day, Sept. 23, to the nighttime breaking and entering of uninhabited dwellings after the state agreed to reduce the charges.

The first charge carries a five-year-to-life sentence; the latter, a one-to-15 year sentence.

Judge Sharp denied the men probation.

Nations Decide to Confer With France

LONDON (AP)—American and British leaders have decided to seek early heart-to-heart talks with France over the future of rebel-torn Algeria, informed allies diplomats reported today.

Top officials in both Britain and America feel such talks are needed urgently because:

The Soviet Union is believed preparing a new drive to extend its political and economic influence in Africa and the Middle East.

The load of the Algerian campaign has brought French government finances to the crisis point, and any collapse might open the way for an extreme right-wing, or a "popular front" left-wing, government.

The U.S. and British governments are having nightmares of what might happen to the Atlantic Alliance if the North African situation is allowed to deteriorate further.

The installation in France of an extremist government, right or left, could spell the crackup of the Allied defense system in its present form.

American and British high-ups accordingly were said to believe they must make a determined attempt very soon to get the French to face the facts in Algeria.

But the United States and Brit-

Moss Criticizes U. S. Secrecy On Satellites

Reports Air Force Had Advance Data On Soviet Launching

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The top congressional investigator of government secrecy said today the Air Force got information of Russian satellite launching plans months ahead of time but "the American people were never forewarned."

Rep. Moss (D-Calif.) also said Robert Cutler, President Eisenhower's adviser on national security affairs, imposed a "blueprint of secrecy" on America's "missile-satellite deficiencies until Sputnik sailed across the skies."

Moss, chairman of a House subcommittee which rides herd on federal information practices, referred at one point to what he called "public-be-damned information policies" and said they must be eliminated.

Moss' View Challenged

Moss' views were sharply challenged by the Pentagon's information chief, Asst. Secretary of Defense Murray Snyder, who said the congressman "apparently subscribes to the myth that, for some reason, your defense officials kept all their spare time knitting paper curtains of secrecy around the facts of our military activities."

Both Moss and Snyder made their comments in speeches prepared for the annual convention of the Associated Press Managing Editors Assn., which continues through Saturday.

For two days this week, Snyder was a witness before the Moss subcommittee at Washington hearings in its continuing study of government information practices.

Moss said the fight for the public's right to know must be unremitting, as new threats arise continually. He appealed to the editors to help lift what he termed "the smug smog of secrecy."

Snyder Critic of Moss

Snyder, sharply critical of Moss, said that he found it "difficult, and so did newsmen covering the hearings of his committee this week, to reconcile freedom of information objectives of this committee with Mr. Moss' refusal to permit" the Pentagon general counsel to "refute an unsubstantiated indication."

At a subcommittee session Monday, Robert Dechert, chief counsel of the Defense Department, tried to get in a statement disputing Moss' allegations of stifling secrecy.

Moss banged his gavel, however, and said Dechert "is not going to inject himself at will into these hearings."

Snyder subsequently got in the gist of Dechert's objections.

Snyder said the implication appeared in Moss' opening statement at the hearing Monday "that there was agreement among

Crime Expert Says Gein Not Remorseful

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Ed Gein, 51-year-old bachelor, appeared to show no remorse, a state criminologist said Tuesday night, after more than five hours of questioning in connection with the slaying of a widow and the finding of 10 human skulls in his farm home.

Charles Wilson, head of the Wisconsin State Crime Laboratory, said he could not detect any remorse, "just a sort of detachment."

Gein, brought to Madison for interrogation in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Bernice Worden of Plainfield, Wis., faced further questioning.

As Gein's grisly story was being investigated, Sheriff Herbert Wanserski of Portage County said he recognized one of the skulls found on Gein's farm near Plainfield as that of a long-missing woman.

Doesn't Believe Story

Wanserski told newsmen that he did not believe Gein's story that he had taken the assortment of skulls and grisly human remains from cemeteries.

The sheriff said: "We have found the face and head of Mary Hogan among the objects in Gein's farm home."

He said Mrs. Hogan was a 54-year-old Portage County divorcee who disappeared in December 1954 from the rural tavern she operated at Bancroft, about six miles from Gein's farm.

Wanserski said he had taken part in the investigation since it started Saturday night after the discovery of Mrs. Worden's body.

Salem-Cleveland Train Service Hit

Train service between Salem and Cleveland is restricted to one stop here a day, at 7:09 p.m., Castle M. Smith, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce reports.

Smith said the schedule is contrary to promises made by Pennsylvania Railroad officials last July.

At that time, the Chamber of Commerce was told that one of the two morning trains running between Salem and Cleveland would be stopped because of the lack of patronage, Smith said.

However, the railroad officials assured the Chamber that a 5:30 a.m. Cleveland-bound train would stop here, Smith said.

It was later learned that the 5:30 a.m. train doesn't run to Cleveland, but operates between Washington, D.C., and Chicago, he added.

Smith said he doesn't plan an immediate protest to the railroad regarding the service.

Planning Group, Council To Hear Baker Engineer

Tuesday Conference Is Expected Only To Be a Discussion

City Council Tuesday night tentatively scheduled a closed meeting for next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. with the Planning Commission and the Michael Baker Engineers to discuss the recently completed zoning plan which will govern the city's growth in the future.

L. W. Pribble Jr., engineer-representative of the firm hired by the city to draw up the plan, will explain the recommendations set forth in the measure. No definite action on passage of the plan is expected until early next month.

The plan covers all zoning, traffic control and other phases of the city's growth and will go into effect immediately after approval by Council and the Planning Commission.

As soon as the regulations and zoning ordinance of the plan have been approved, a public hearing will be set for within 30 days after such approval.

The object of the zoning phase of the ordinance is to eliminate irregular construction in the city.

The plan calls for the city to be divided into six districts — designated as single family residential, general residential, general business, heavy commercial, industrial, and buffer areas.

A Master Plan Board of Administration will be appointed by Council after the measure has been approved. This board will see that all provisions of the plan are upheld.

The problem was referred to the water department and sewage committee.

Gov. Stratton Cuts Touhy's Jail Sentence

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton today lopped 27 years off Roger Touhy's kidnapping sentence, making the Prohibition Era gangster eligible for parole in August 1959.

It marked another successful step in Touhy's long fight for freedom since he was sentenced for kidnapping in what he called a bum rap. Four months ago, the governor reduced to 3 years a 199-year prison break sentence which Touhy was serving concurrently.

Touhy, 59, once known as "The Terrible," originally was sentenced to 99 years in 1934 for the kidnapping of John "Jake" Barber.

Factor—a charge he has maintained through the years was a frameup.

Nine years later Touhy had an additional 199 years piled on his sentence as the result of a break from Stateville Penitentiary in which he participated.

Stratton's action today would make Touhy eligible on the kidnapping sentence to serve six months of institutional parole starting next February.

Then, before parole would be possible, he would be required to serve 11 months out of the three-year term still facing him for the jail break sentence, plus a month of institutional parole.

Adlai Stevenson's Contribution

It is reasonable to guess that Adlai Stevenson decided in his own mind that his future as a potential presidential candidate was clouded when he consented to consult with the State Department on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Although he has given himself the advantage of a doubt by declaring that he will not become part of policy-making but will act only as a consultant, Mr. Stevenson is giving up his role of Democratic leader, in favor of a new role of bipartisanship in foreign policy.

This will leave partisan leadership to other members of the Democratic party, particularly Democratic members of Congress in the House of Representatives and the Senate. It will free the urbane Mr. Stevenson from a role which cramped his style. He was never at his best when he thought it was duty to represent only the partisan point of view.

His personal point of view never has been purely partisan. He was most attractive to voters during his two presidential campaigns and while he was governor of Illinois when circumstances permitted him to be himself—a witty, thoughtful individual whose own thoughts and actions never were circum-scribed by purely political motives.

Although he would deny it stoutly, his attractiveness in politics, like the attractiveness of Dwight D. Eisenhower was his personality. And whenever his personality was concealed beneath what his advisers told him he should be as a partisan, he seemed to betray himself, in the same way that Mr. Eisenhower sometimes was misled into saying things which were out of harmony with his natural role as a spokesman for people, not politicians.

Mr. Stevenson is potentially in a position to make a valuable contribution to bipartisanship in NATO deliberations. He could go on from this first assignment to others of equal or even greater importance in his new role.

Apparently, this is what he is prepared in his own mind to think about in planning his future in public life. Otherwise, it is unlikely he would have consented to work with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles on the problems facing NATO.

No other man in the public eye has more to bring to public life than the former governor of Illinois, if he can find a pace to be himself, instead of a spokesman for a political party.

They're Out to Get Benson

The surest thing in appointive jobholding is what happens when a government appointee becomes a political liability.

No matter how good a job he may be doing, if the clamor against him grows loud enough and lasts long enough the appointee must be sacrificed.

A question of importance to every farmer and to every citizen whose welfare is tied up with agriculture is whether Ezra Taft Benson is going to be sacrificed to the critics demanding his official scalp.

The clamor is loud and it has lasted long. Everything Mr. Benson has done as secretary of agriculture has added to the demand for his official scalp. But the demand stems from a questionable point of view.

It is made by politicians whose stock in trade is to promise and deliver higher support prices to agricultural producers. It reflects a singular devotion to the policy of paying producers a bonus for producing what is not going to be needed. Mr. Benson's devotion is to the policy of paying producers for cutting down production, instead, so that farm prices will find natural levels.

This policy has caused price-support payments to be sharply reduced. Payments under the soil-bank program, however, have caused over-all payments to farmers to be increased. The increase has been reflected in a rise in farm income.

But politicians whose principal asset is ability to manipulate farmers' votes are not satisfied. They have persuaded many farmers that Secretary Benson, who is personally a devout man with a sense of dedication to the hopeless task of solving the never-before-solved farm problem, is an ogre. They promise that if they can cut him up and send him back to Salt Lake City they will unhook the doors of the U.S. Treasury, which is what Benson has been trying to prevent.

On the day he is forced to resign, if that is what must happen to stop the clamor for his political life, there will be something bigger to worry about in Washington than the cost of accelerating a guided-missiles program.

Salem's 'Mr. Baseball'

The Ohio Hot Stove League could have picked no better president than it did Sunday in electing John Herman, J., of Salem.

Johnny is Salem's "Mr. Baseball." He has been active for years in organizing and guiding the destinies of this city's Little League and Hot Stove league baseball players—the young boys who need special training in this wholesome sport. Tireless in his efforts, Johnny spends many hours each summer in steering the program through to a successful conclusion.

The amazing thing is that Mr. Herman is active in many other community affairs but yet finds time for all of them.

A Trusted Servant

George Koontz's announcement Tuesday that he would step aside as clerk-treasurer of the Salem Board of Education on Dec. 31 leaves board members with the task of finding a capable successor to the veteran servant of the Salem city school district.

Mr. Koontz has been more than a clerk to the school board. Respected for his ability and judgment in financial matters, board members frequently leaned on him for sagacious counsel.

In his 24 years as clerk-treasurer, Mr. Koontz has earned the admiration of board members as well as the citizens of the school district. The Salem school system is losing a trusted employee.

Once Over

Tidings when the first man is shot to outer space:

MONDAY—Outer space on way. Getting signals from both ship and man. Man's signals are especially hysterical. Seems to be insisting he wasn't told possible consequences and was sent up without his Blue Cross. LATER: Instruments report man is feeling fine. Man reports instruments are crazy. Still later: Professor at Harvard reports spaceship passed over Boston and that he got from the man the message, "Get me out of this." A Maine rocket watcher said he got the additional message, "I demand to see my lawyer before going farther."

TUESDAY—Strange ripping noises reported from spaceship. It is believed man has a mirror and just got first look at himself in spaceship costume.

WEDNESDAY—Have lost touch with ship and man but getting calls from his wife complaining he took off without leaving money for milkman, 9 p.m.—Ship reported over Montreal. Man reported over Chillicothe. If this is true there's been a serious mishap.

THURSDAY—Observatory reports message from man "Am on moon. Wish you were here. Wish anybody was here, for that matter."

FRIDAY—Washington says it asked man, "How are you?" and got answer, "I would feel better if I had my security card." Washington then wired, "Is moon as represented?" and got answer, "Not sure. This is my first trip." To "Can we do anything for you from this end?" the man replied, "I will accept help FROM ANY END."

SATURDAY—M.T.I. professor sent radio message, "Has anybody preceded you to moon?" Got reply, "No. That's the trouble with this place. No social life." Later: Princeton scientist says he contacted man and said, "Army claims credit for getting you to moon. Navy disputes it. Any comment?" Answer in code was "Both wrong. I blame my plight on Air Force and four Pentagon errors."

ADLAI STEVENSON will help Ike, but will obey the "Proceed With Caution" sign. Looks like his assistance will be under Democratic controls and probably rationed. (If he is called in on satellite issue Adlai will get up the first space-QUIP.)

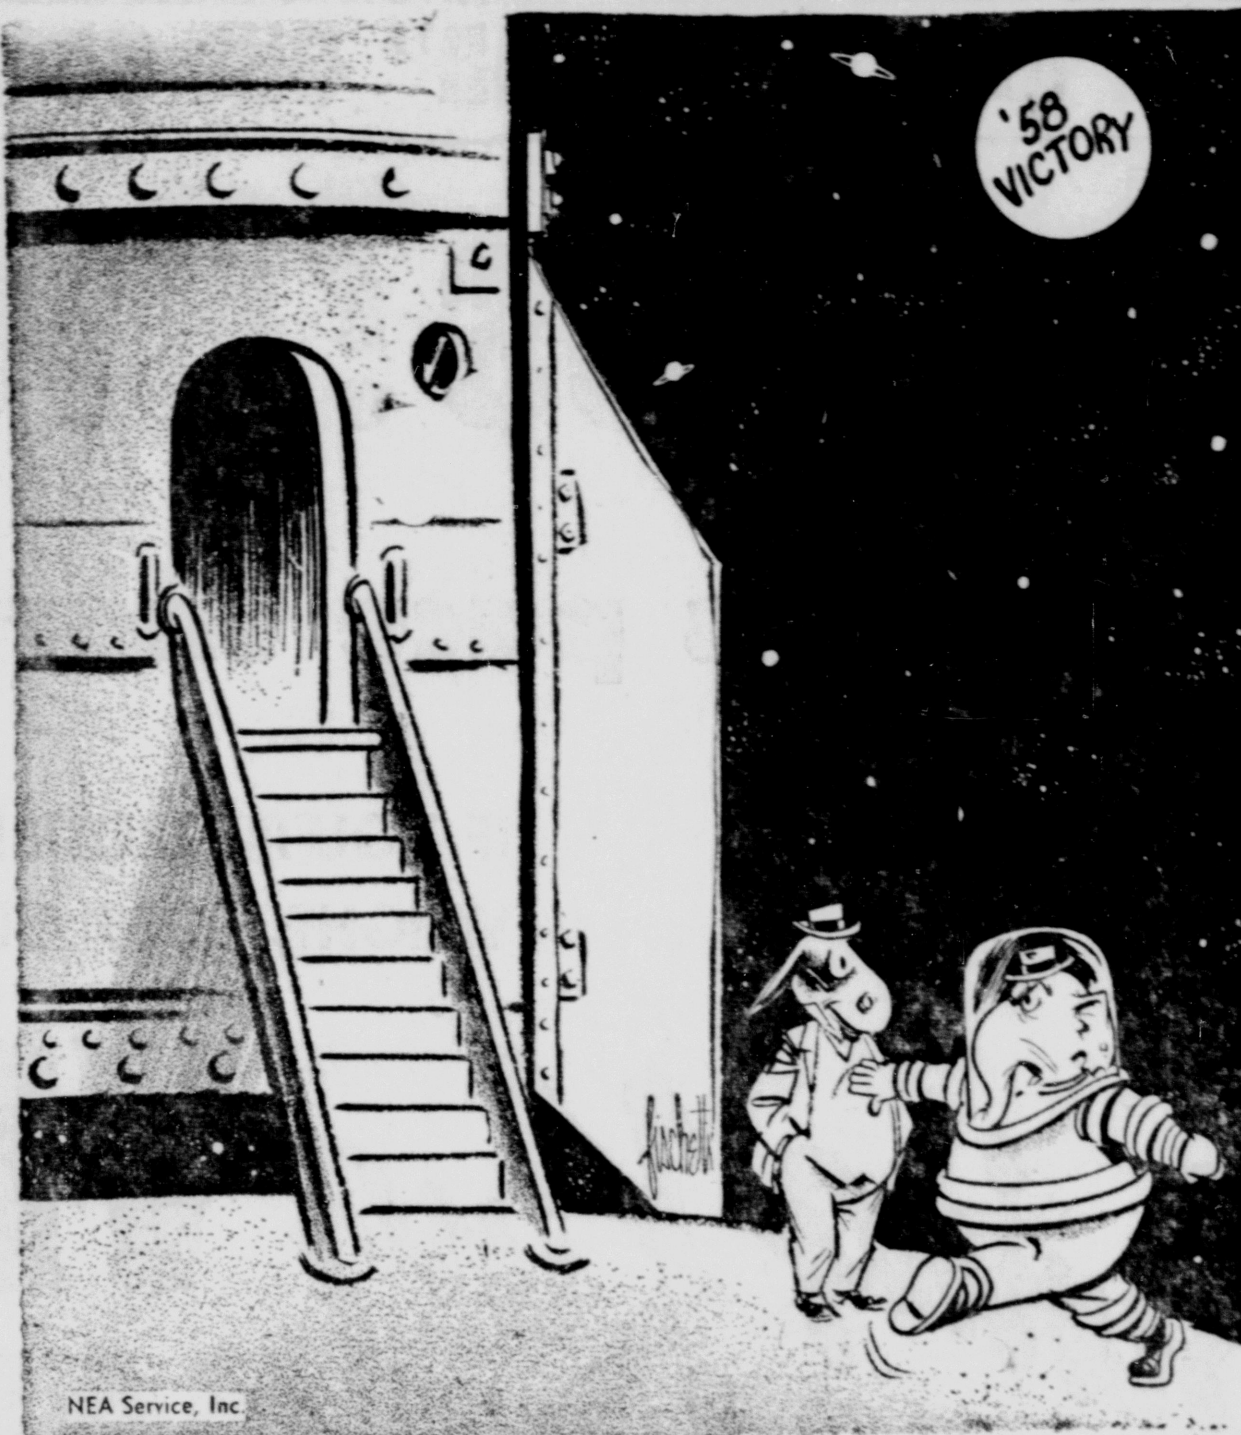

It's a shock to New Yorkers to learn that when they throw out the garbage they may be helping get-rich-quick racketeers and engulfing in a routine that can lead to murder. Awakened by clatter of cans every morning, a New Yorker is really listening to a big money operation. Drama lurks behind every garbage pail.

Supreme Court ruling against tie-in liquor sales by wholesalers to retailers was unanimous, and gave a full quart decision instead of a "fifth."

"A chic woman is never sexy," says a Paris designer. A referendum on that one would be interesting.

"It USED to Be Impossible"

Illusions of Economy

By RAYMOND MOLEY

At a convention of the National Reclamation Association this month, a committee of that body presented a proposal to be pressed in the next session of Congress for a so-called basin account for the Pacific northwest.

This subject, which at least has no active opposition from the Eisenhower Interior Department and Bureau of Reclamation, was proposed at almost the same moment when the President, seeking to reassure an anxious country about its defense program, said that there should be substantial savings in civil expenditures.

He went on to say that not only should existing programs be shaved, but that some programs as a whole might have to be sacrificed in the interest of national safety.

LET US LOOK at this basin account proposal for what it is.

For a good many years it has been evident that the opening of new irrigation projects in the reclamation states would involve federal expenditures far in excess of the ability of those farmers who moved into them to repay.

Therefore, the Interior Department, both in the Roosevelt-Truman double-decade and in the Eisenhower era, has been coming up with slick bookkeeping devices to get subsidies for these undertakings.

Most of these devices were to use the alleged profits from hydroelectric projects to pay the necessary subsidy to irrigation. The Ickes Interior Department claimed the legality of taking out of the power revenues the so-called interest component to pay for irrigation costs.

The law requires that hydroelectric projects are to be self-liquidating — i.e., that within a given time the costs, with interest, should be repaid to the Treasury.

However, it is obvious that if the interest which should be paid back to the Treasury were to be used for another purpose, that charge would have to be made up by the taxpayers of the nation — taxpayers who in the great majority would derive no benefit from the projects.

CONGRESS NEVER authorized this scheme, although the Interior Department has been getting away with it on a number of projects ever since.

Then another device was created, called the Colbrann formula. A modification of this was incorporated in the great Upper Colorado project which the White House strong-armed through Congress.

This fantastic plan provided that the power projects should be paid off in full, with interest. Then, after that happy day some 50 years hence, the revenues of those power projects should pay off the costs of raising hay and feed on the high plateaus and mountain valleys of the arid West.

But since these irrigation projects have been intrinsically subsidized from the beginning because they are interest free, the amount of government outlay upon them would be so big in 50 years that they would not really be paid off for a century or more, if ever.

Meanwhile, the government has continued to pay subsidies for excess production in other agricultural places while we are paying to put land into production in some places while we are paying to take land out of production in others.

And now comes the basin account — trick.

IT WAS FRANKLY recognized — both in the appeals of the proponents of the idea at the National Reclamation Association and by Sen. Neuberger, who introduced a bill last February to create such an account — that irrigation projects could never pay out in the appointed 50 years, and that they would have to be subsidized by power revenues.

The device to hide this subsidy would be to put all the revenues from a whole river basin in one pot and pay out of that all costs, including the subsidy on irrigation.

According to an Associated Press story, Secretary Seaton has approved the basin account principle on several occasions. It would seem, therefore, that the President might have a talk concerning his economy idea with his secretary of the interior on his first possible occasion.

Of course, the idea reeks with politics. But with the direful threat presented by the Soviet, it would seem an urgent time to adjourn such obvious politics as this.

It might be a good idea if some of the people who are agitating this idea, including such politicians as Sen. Neuberger, realized that this is a time when some of us should be thinking about the interests of all of us.

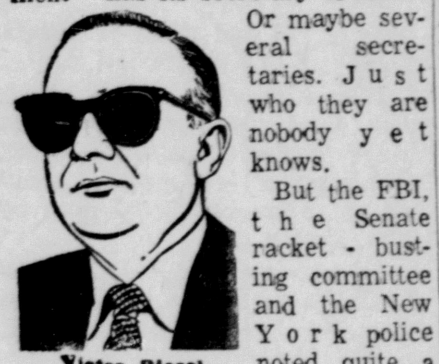

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Like all well run governments, the Mafia—which gaily toasts itself in red wine as the "Second Government"—has its secretary of labor.

Or maybe several secretaries. Just who they are nobody yet knows. But the FBI, the Senate racket-busting committee and the New York police noted quite a sprinkling of labor "experts" at the national convention of Mafia warlords in upper New York State last Thursday morning.

There were labor relations men. There were specialists in the garment and trucking fields. There were waterfront men.

There were account executives who have deep connections with Teamster locals. There were overseers of the garbage business—and even someone from the Hotel and Restaurant Union.

THERE WERE 65 MEN in all with intricate connections—yet even an amateur knows that rarely if ever before have more than a half dozen Mafia chiefs met to make decisions.

By this time the federal and some very hard working state and local gendarmes have checked out most of these connections and they believe that the clan met to analyze their market and find out how much trouble they can expect in each business, in each district.

If they had met merely to cut up the territories of Albert Anastasia, the executed executioner, they would have called their top "judges" into a New York or New Jersey restaurant and that would have been it.

The boys gathered in the cool mountain air for poll taking on just how hard they were all being hit by the Senate racket committee which now is winding its way through the Teamsters into all fields.

THESE MEN wanted to know, too, how it was in the labor field, the federalists figured. For among the gourmets was one Carlo Gambino, a dignified fellow. The police say Gambino did not hop through an open window of his host's home when the 20 New York state troopers closed in.

Gambino identified himself to the state troopers as a labor relations consultant. And the police found he was telling the truth. Gambino is identified with the firm of Shiller and Saltzstein, 141 East 44th St., New York City. Apparently Nate Shefferman did not have this mint-making field to himself. We don't know what Mr. Gambino's advice consists of and we cannot even refer to him as an unfrocked professor, for the authorities report no baccalaureate recitations, just indictments for operating a still and grand larceny.

Among the debonair delegates to the parley in the town of Apalachin, the police note another labor "expert" by the name of James LaDuca, Secretary of Local 66, Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union, Buffalo.

SECTIONS of this same international union in Philadelphia and other cities have been under investigation by the McClellan committee for almost a year. So have the eastern Teamster locals with which several at the gathering have close ties in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The host to the 65 visitors, Joseph Barbera, is himself a Scranton man—the area in which some hoods inside a union or two shook down the Navy and in which McClellan committee investigators were threatened.

There was a solid contingent of men who have waterfront connections in the New York harbor and a couple of fellows who kept sections of the construction field in line. Since all these fields are under Senate and other federal probes, the conjecture in government circles is threefold:

The Mafia men wanted to know just how heavy their losses have been, since the McClellan-Kennedy probe was launched.

THEY WANTED to pinpoint the actual number of potential Mafia candidates for the hot seat.

The top older men, more cautious, more stealthy and wiser in the ways of dealing with the public, believe that the people are enormously angered and that the pressure on local law enforcement authorities is just beginning.

There were many there who believe the time has come to discipline the extroverts in the mob. The one thing the boys want most now is to get out of the spotlight.

Homeworth Card-Ettes Hold Session

HOMEWORTH — Bridge was the pastime when the Card-Ettes met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Don McClain of RD 1.

The score awards were won by Mrs. John Beiter, Mrs. John Mardis and Mrs. Howard Emmons.

Secret sisters were drawn for the coming year and birthday anniversary gifts were received by Mrs. Beiter and Mrs. Roger McQuilkin.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held on Dec. 12 with Mrs. McQuilkin.

C. C. Courtney, of Phil. O. and Harold Sampson of Zanesville called on Arthur M. Thomas Saturday.

Virgil Thomas of Alliance called on his mother, Mrs. Rena Thomas Sunday.

Marion Stump is ill with pneumonia. He is the father of Mrs. Virgil Thomas.

Charles Zwick of Woodsfield spent last with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bjorkman.

Mrs. Jack Hoffman is somewhat improved.

LOOK OUT! — Arthur Herron, Jr., of Salem, attending a transportation agents convention in Miami Beach, Fla., pets a live alligator as a Seminole Indian carefully holds the critter's huge jaws. Herron, secretary-treasurer of the Herron Transfer Co. of Franklin St., admittedly was a bit nervous, particularly after watching the Indian wrestle the 'gator previously in the water.

Alexander-Early Wedding Is Held At Bride's Home

Only the immediate families witnessed the marriage of Miss Donna Jean Alexander and Carl H. Early Friday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Alexander of R.D. 5, Salem. Mr. Early is the son of Elmer Early of Columbiana and Mrs. Joseph Kozjan of Leetonia.

Bouquets of chrysanthemums and pompons together with seven branch candelabra and palms formed the background before which the couple exchanged their vows. Rev. Robert E. Ferguson, pastor of the Washingtonville Methodist Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a ballerina-length dress of Cotillion blue brocade and velvet, complimented by a blue and white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Richard Candler served as matron of honor and was attired in a red knit dress. Her corsage was of red and white carnations. Richard Candler was best man.

Mrs. Alexander chose a black knit dress and a corsage of red roses for her daughter's wedding. A corsage of yellow roses accented the beige knit dress worn by Mrs. Kozjan.

Approximately 55 relatives attended the reception following the ceremony. The table was laid with a white linen cover, and centered with a three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. An arrangement of pink and white carnations graced the table. Miss Virginia Safreed assisted with the serving.

Following a motor trip to Michigan, the couple will reside at 451 Pearl St., Leetonia.

Guarding Your Health

Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

Every so often we read or hear about someone who was found dead while sitting in a car in a closed garage. The cause of death is usually carbon monoxide poisoning produced by running the motor of the car in a place without fresh air. Similar tragedies may come from faulty heaters.

The exhaust of a car produces and releases carbon monoxide. When this is breathed, the odorless gas combines with a portion of the blood known as hemoglobin which normally carries oxygen to the tissues. If carbon monoxide replaces oxygen in the hemoglobin the tissues are starved for life-giving oxygen. It quickly causes unconsciousness and rapid death.

The danger from carbon monoxide poisoning is greater in winter than in summer. Because of the cold weather houses and garages are likely to be shut up tight and fresh air does not circulate as it does in the summer. This means that a furnace, heater, or running motor of an automobile in a closed space will produce carbon monoxide which is not properly mixed with oxygen.

When only small amounts of carbon monoxide are present, warning symptoms may occur, such as headache, dizziness, nausea, muscular weakness and a generally uncomfortable feeling. When large amounts of carbon monoxide are present, the victim becomes drowsy and unconscious so rapidly that chronic poisoning from carbon monoxide probably does not exist. One would expect it to be found in people who are exposed to small amounts of carbon monoxide for long periods of time, such as those working in certain mining operations, near furnaces, or in garages. But actually such persons do not seem to be harmed in any way.

The use of defective stoves or furnaces or running the motor of an automobile in a closed garage are more dangerous than playing with dynamite.

If a person who has been exposed to carbon monoxide is still alive he should be removed from the bad air at once. Artificial respiration and giving oxygen as soon as possible are desirable. Fire department crews, police and gas company employees are usually trained to give rapid emergency treatment for this form of poisoning.

Taking a chance on being revived does not make much sense, however. Those who use gas heaters in their sleeping quarters should make sure that these devices are in good condition. Sleeping with the windows open is an additional safeguard.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

Plenty of Hard Running Prescribed For Clark

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Plenty of hard, fast running from now on is coach Woody Hayes' prescribed treatment for Ohio State's injured halfback, Don Clark.

Clark suffered a groin injury in the Purdue game Nov. 9 and was forced to watch from the sidelines Saturday as Ohio State whipped Iowa 17-13 for the Big Ten crown and a trip to the Rose Bowl.

The ace halfback suffered a cramp in the injured groin muscle Monday, but was able to take some running exercises Tuesday. On the advice of Dr. Richard Patton, team physician, Hayes said he will put Clark through some hard running today.

"Dr. Patton says the only thing to do now is go hard on it," Hayes said. "The doctor is usually pretty conservative, too, so if he says Don can run hard again, there's no use babying it (Clark's injury)."

Zvi Zeitlin, Noted Violinist, Will Appear Here on Monday

Zvi Zeitlin, young violinist who will appear Monday evening at 8:30 in the High School auditorium, under the auspices of the Northern Columbia County Community Concert Association, is an artist of rare ability whose life has been as colorful as his violin playing.

Leaving Russia with his family at the age of two, Zeitlin received his early training in Israel, where he made his debut with the Israel Philharmonic. So remarkable was the reception that Zeitlin, then aged 17, was engaged to perform 14 concerts which were broadcast throughout the nation. At the same time he appeared extensively recital and quickly won a reputation as Israel's foremost violinist.

During the war, Zeitlin enlisted in the British Royal Air Force. After active service in the North African desert, he was sent by the British authorities on concert tours throughout the Allied theatre of operations — with either piano accompaniment or with leading orchestras of the Middle East.

Following the war Zeitlin returned to the United States where he continued his work as a scholarship student at the Juilliard School of Music under the sponsorship of Sasche Jacobsen, Louis Persinger and Ivan Galsman.

Zeitlin's first performance at New York's Town Hall was acclaimed among the leading events of the season.

The late Serge Koussevitzky, upon hearing Zeitlin, invited him to be a member of his faculty at Tanglewood, and following Zeitlin's participation in the 4th Prades Festival, Pablo Casals was moved to write, "By your talent, you are worthy of being among the greatest instrumentalists and interpreters of music."

Since that time, his transcontinental tours of North America, South America and Israel have brought him audience response, and press acclaim of the most enthusiastic variety.

The young artist has met this response by a continuing development and broadening of his art. Zeitlin is married to Marianne Langner of Toronto, Canada. They have two young children, Hillel and Leora, and make their home in New York near Columbia University. Zeitlin uses a rare Januarius Gagliano violin, dated 1765.

Zvi Zeitlin

Tunisia

meantime, they hoped for a simmering down of what Pineau called "the great emotional reaction" among the people of France to last week's U. S.-British shipment of about 1,000 small arms to Tunisia despite bitter objections from the French government.

Pineau and Dulles apparently held off announcing their agreement to let French emotion cool off.

The consultations are expected to take into consideration any weapons received by Tunisia from other sources.

Key Man in Plan

The key man in the plan appeared to be Tunisia's President Habib Bourguiba. He has said he 4,000-man army and, if the West ern nations, But he insists he must have enough arms to equip his 4,000-man army and, if the West does not supply them, he would accept military aid from anywhere, including the Soviet bloc.

Dulles told Pineau that Bourguiba had pledged that the weapons he got from America and Britain would not be transferred anywhere.

Algeria

ain believe there is a chance to edge toward a general settlement and pacification of Algria with the aid of moderate local leaders.

The squabble over arms for Tunisia could provide a starting point. Diplomats explain that by supporting Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba in a small way, the United States and Britain can claim to have underlined the Western interest in his country. This may serve to strengthen his wish to help-along with the ruler of Morocco-in the search for Algerian moderates with whom the French could negotiate a settlement.

If France were to come up after inter-allied talks with some practical proposals which the West generally could support, they might serve to break the Algerian deadlock.

Informants said Washington and London at the same time believe it might be possible to build up a new, largely Arab regional political and defensive grouping in the west Mediterranean that could be linked with NATO. Such a group would include Algeria, Morocco, Tunisia, Spain and Libya.

Wetzel, Blake to Seek New Terms at Columbus

State Representative Clarence L. Wetzel of Lisbon and State Senator Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry announced today that they would be candidates to succeed themselves at the primaries next May. Both are Republicans.

Wetzel, who is serving his third term in the Ohio legislature, said it has been "most gratifying to him to have had an active part in the passage of many important measures by the 102nd general assembly."

Blake represents the 20th-22nd Ohio senatorial district.

The drive was scheduled to close Nov. 1 but all the money collected by the solicitors has not been turned in. Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, campaign secretary, reported today.

High School Students Hold Observance

Class assignments were reviewed and recitations were supervised by Salem High School students Tuesday during the annual Students Day observance at the High School when pupils assumed the posts of teachers and administrators.

The school's student Council sponsored the event. Purposes of the observance are to better acquaint students with teacher duties and problems, to teach them to accept responsibility, to give them an opportunity to participate in a form of self-government and to gain practical training in considering a teaching career.

John Callahan, dean of men at the high school, is Student Council adviser.

Yesterday's roster of student teachers was selected from a list of about 275 applicants for the post. The Student Council Board of Education made the assignments. The students were judged on the basis of scholastic work, extra-curricular activities and references of the teachers.

American scientists that secrecy was stifling our technical development."

Discussing the advance word on Russia's satellite plans, Moss told the editors his subcommittee has learned that on June 2, a private corporation gave the Air Force an analysis of dozens of freely distributed Russian technical publications adding up to a report that the Soviets planned to send up a satellite as early as Sept. 17.

What the Air Force did with this information, Moss said, the subcommittee doesn't know yet. "We do not know," he said, "whether the military establishment ignored these facts—or, appreciating their value, chose to keep the American public in the dark."

"We do know, however, that until such 'public-be-damned' information policies are eliminated, such incidents will occur again and without end."

Council that Miss Helen Redinger of 1838 E. State St., owner of the temporarily condemned building at 194 S. Broadway, had been denied a building permit to reinforce the structure with tie rods.

At the Nov. 5 meeting of Council, Miss Redinger had said that the permit was approved by Robert Skipton of Columbus, chief of the Ohio Division of Factory Building Inspection.

Mayor Cranmer said Skipton did not approve the permit on the grounds that the structure is unsafe.

Repairs Are Completed

Mayor Cranmer also reported that the repairs of the railroad crossing on Newgarden Ave. and the paving of Highland Ave. have been completed. The resurfacing of Penn Ave. between Pershing and Columbia Sts. has also been completed, he said.

Council passed six ordinances transferring a total of $9,736 from the maintenance, contingency, sidewalk, supply and payroll funds to other funds to offset increased city payrolls, costs of maintenance and equipment and for emergencies.

Council also passed a measure authorizing the transfer of $450 from the maintenance of equipment, supply and park fund to the park commission office fund for the purchase of office furniture.

He added that this country can "put up a little satellite quickly," but that it will be 1959 before one matching the Russian Sputniks is launched.

But in Colorado Springs, Colo., Harold E. Stassen said he considers the United States "less than one year behind" Russia in outer space research and "with sound action we should be able to move ahead in this respect in the next five years."

The United States was four years behind when the Korean War broke out, he said. Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, said the nation was "tragically behind" in many types of armed strength in 1950 but since has "caught up or moved ahead in almost all types of armament."

Secretary of Defense McElroy, returning to Washington after a conference with President Eisenhower, said that "certainly before mid-1959" this country will be shipping intermediate ballistic missiles to Britain.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY — Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, deputy supreme commander of allied forces in Europe, who celebrated his 70th birthday Nov. 17, will retire from active duty effective Sept. 20, 1958. The exceptionally long notice of the Field Marshal's retirement gives Gen. Lauris Norstad, the American Supreme Commander at SHAPE in Paris, plenty of time to pick a successor.

Health, Safety Council Drops Plans For Recount of Levy

The Columbiana County Health and Safety Council has abandoned plans to ask for a recount of votes cast for a two-tenths mill health district levy, defeated at the Nov. 5 election, after the County Election Board Monday rejected its original application because of irregularities.

The board rejected the application on two grounds and notified the individuals involved a new petition could be submitted but none was received, Frank O'Hanlon, election board clerk, said.

The recount application was received by mail from Victor Bates of Minerva, RD 3, president of the Health and Safety Council, asking the board to recount four Knox Township precincts. Bates' letter said a council representative would file the cash deposit required later.

O'Hanlon said the board rejected the application because state law requires a deposit of $10 for each precinct to be recounted to be submitted with the application, and also provides no individual or organization can ask a recount of any special question or issue. To secure a recount of a special question, five or more qualified electors, who supported the levy, must request the recount, O'Hanlon explained.

Received Too Late

The board at first rejected the application because it was received after the five-day limit for recount applications had passed, the clerk explained.

The deadline for recounts is five days after the official vote has been certified to state officials.

The levy failed by 116 votes to get the 55 per cent needed for passage, 6,672 and 5,669 voted against it, he said.

The Council gave no reason why it picked the four Knox Township precincts for the recount. The levy failed to secure a majority in any one of the four, O'Hanlon said.

The vote in each precinct was: Northeast, 117 for and 126 against; Northwest, 86 to 121; Southeast, 79 to 93, and Southwest 110 to 160.

Meanwhile the board said it has been advised unofficially that one of two losers for a two-year term on the Mahoning Local Board of Education may ask a recount of four Knox Township precincts and Butler North precinct.

O'Hanlon said the board was advised today by the Mahoning County Election Board that Edward W. Oliver may file for a recount of the five Columbiana precincts which are included in the Mahoning Local vote. He has until Wednesday to submit his application, O'Hanlon said, since the Mahoning County election board did not certify its results until Nov. 15.

IN 58 DAYS A '58 PLYMOUTH RAN 58,000 MILES—EQUAL TO

MORE THAN TWICE AROUND THE WORLD

AND IT DROVE EVERY INCH OF THE WAY!

We knew this car was tough.

We designed it that way.

That's why we weren't afraid to give Plymouth the toughest, true test run of all time...with all America as the "track."

We didn't coddle this Plymouth. Didn't crate it and ship it carefully from place to place. Instead, we aimed it out of Los Angeles one misty morning and sent it through a course that ran 58,000 miles through 37 states.

The time limit? Only 58 days.

A thousand miles a day!

The equivalent of 6 years' driving crammed into little more than 3 weeks!

Three times this car crossed the Rockies. Three times it wound its way across the country... passing through more than 1200 cities and towns. Whipping over turnpikes...creeping through city traffic...arrowing down super-highways... feeling its way through rutted detours. At the end, it still looked, ran and rode like new.

This is what lasting value really means. The ability to take everything that American roads and weather can dish out—and come up grinning. Why don't you give Plymouth a test drive yourself—today? You'll see what we mean.

That's the Plymouth "track"...and just look at that route! Every possible road and weather condition. Plymouth ran every inch of that murderous route 3 times in just 58 days. What greater proof of lasting, built-in stamina!

Star of the Forward Look... Plymouth ahead for keeps!

Michigan Picked to Hand Defeat to Ohio State Eleven

Duke Favored Over N. Carolina

Oklahoma Expected To Beat Nebraska

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Zuppke, famed Illinois gridiron coach of yesteryear, once said the three college sports involving physical contact were football, wrestling and dancing. So off to the junior prom, Algonon, after picking this week's winners:

Michigan State over Kansas State: The door to the Big Ten throne room is locked with Ohio State safely inside. The disappointed Spartans to take it out on lowly Kansas State.

Auburn over Florida State: The odds are against State even getting a score.

Michigan over Ohio State: Strictly on a hunch. The Ohioans won a trip to the Rose Bowl Saturday and a defeat won't cost them the Big Ten title.

Iowa over Notre Dame: Randy Duncan's passing to bring the Hawkeyes a cherished triumph over Notre Dame — by more than a touchdown.

Oklahoma over Nebraska: The Sooners start a new winning streak.

Duke over North Carolina: A regular jim-dandy of a brawl with Duke's big size to be the determining factor. Tennessee over Kentucky: The clawless can't score, so how can they win?

Texas Christian over Rice: No reason for this choice. But there's no reason in that topsy-turvy Southwest Conference race either. Oregon State over Oregon: State will find a way to shackle fullback Jack Morris.

Without comment:

FRIDAY

Furman over Davidson (N) SATURDAY

EAST: Dartmouth over Princeton, Yale over Harvard, Rutgers over Columbia, Villanova over Wichita, Lehigh over Lafayette, Pittsburgh over Penn State.

MIDWEST: Colorado over Iowa State, Detroit over Dayton, Illinois over Northwestern, Purdue over Indiana, Missouri over Kansas, Minnesota over Wisconsin, Houston over Tulsa.

SOUTH: Mississippi Southern over Alabama, Clemson over Wake Forest, Georgia Tech over Florida, Maryland over Virginia, North Carolina State over South Carolina, Vanderbilt over The Citadel, West Virginia over Syracuse.

FAR WEST: Washington over Washington State, Stanford over California, UCLA over Southern California, Brigham Young over Colorado State University, Arizona over Marquette (N), Arizona State over College of Pacific, Air Force over New Mexico.

Last week's figures: won 37, lost 16 for .700.

PACE SALEM TO VICTORIES — Two quarterbacks contributed mightily to the Quaker grid team's excellent season record this year.

Jim "Moe" Meissner, senior signal caller, above 1, sparked Salem's aerial game during the past season. He passed for 12 touchdowns, an average of better than one a game. The Quakers completed 30 of 66 tosses in their 10 games with only three of the throws being intercepted.

Ben Jones, No. 14 above, set an all-time Salem extra point record during 1957. Jones kicked 34 conversions in 44 tries. He missed five of the conversions while five others were blocked. Figuring prominently in Jones' record was Kent Malloy, No. 60, also shown, who held the ball and center Jerry Stumpo, who centered on each attempt.

Carpenter to Replace Hanulak

Cleveland Backfield to Get More Muscle For Rams' Game

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coach Paul Brown will put a little more muscle in the Cleveland Browns' backfield for Sunday's scrap with the tough Los Angeles Rams.

The taller and heavier Lew Carpenter has been installed at the starting halfback position in place of speedy Chet Hanulak. Hanulak's quick rushes and the hard charging of fullback Jim Brown have been the Browns' success formula to date.

Coach Brown assured, however, that the basic running strategy hasn't changed.

We want to have the power type of running in there at the beginning.

The 185-pound Hanulak has taken a healthy pounding from opposing linemen in the first eight games and probably welcomes the rest. He received a badly bruised back in the game with the Washington Redskins. It was feared he might be on the bench for the Rams game, but X-rays showed his injury is not serious.

Linebacker Vince Costello was also injured Sunday but Browns' trainer Leo Murphy said Costello's strained leg ligaments would not keep him out of action.

Boasting one of the best defensive units in the league, the Browns got more help Tuesday. Tom Catlin, linebacker and defensive signal caller in 1954, was released by the Air Force. He may be placed on the active list in time for Sunday's game.

ers. Possibilities are that utility player J. W. Porter and a catcher, either Frank House or Red Wilson, will be involved.

Martin, Thompson and veteran slugger Gus Zernial reportedly are headed for Detroit. The Tigers also are known to be interested in shortstop Joe DeMaestri.

Last week after a meeting between General Manager John J. McHale and Manager Jack Tighe's staff the Tigers said bluntly, "We are anxious to trade."

"We must trade," said McHale. "Even if some of our players improve, that still won't be enough. We have to make some moves." The Tigers finished in fourth place last season, getting a first-division berth for the first time since 1950, although they failed to win as many games as they did in 1955, when they wound up in fifth place.

Detroit has expressed a willingness to give up first baseman Ray Boone, whom the Boston Red Sox have tried to obtain. McHale and Frank Lane, Cleveland's new general manager, also are reported ready to discuss trades. A deal with the Indians might involve Vic Wertz, the heavy-hitting first baseman the Tigers dealt off several seasons back.

Martin is the key player in the deal with Kansas City. He was traded to the Athletics last season after getting in the New York Yankee "doghouse" because of a high club incident.

He hit .251 and was out part of the season with a hand injury after joining the A's.

Tighe said just 10 days ago, "Martin is my kind of ballplayer. We need a guy like him and I think he'd hit .275 for us."

Foreman's, Speaker's Win

Bunn's Defeats Gasco 52-37; Petrucci's Blasts Charley's

A pair of big-margin wins and two close games featured Class B city league basketball action on Tuesday night.

Bunn's beat Gasco 52-37. Petrucci's crushed Charley's 60-35. Foreman's nipped Herron's 45-43 and Speaker's topped Chappell's 49-41.

Art Hawes paced Bunn's to their win by scoring 20 points. Toot tossed in 16 to help the cause. The loser's attack was sparked by Dale Hileman's 10 markers.

The victors led at halftime 28-16.

Petrucci's had four scorers in double figures in their clash with Charley's. Gene Trimmer led the parade with 16, followed by Ron Shaffer's 13, Martin Lutsch's 12, and Dudach's 10 points.

Bill Panzott had 12 for Charley's who trailed 29-18 at halftime.

Ed Senior's 16 markers and 14 more by Dave Williams paced Foreman's to a two-point margin over Herron's. Herron's led at the end of three quarters 35-34 but couldn't protect their lead in the final frame.

Ed Votaw had 11, while Bill Crookston and Tom Pastier caged 10 each for Herron's.

Chappell's blew a six-point intermission lead to Speaker's in the final game of the evening. They led 23-17 at the half but fell behind to stay in the third stanza 36-32. Bob DeCrow had 16 and Jerry Binder 12 for the victors, while Chappell's attack was paced by Dick Beall's 17 markers.

Hawks Score 118-115 Win Over New York

By The Associated Press
The Western Division lead enjoyed by Detroit in the National Basketball Assn. was short lived. Today the Pistons were right back where they were three days ago, in second place behind the St. Louis Hawks.

The combination of the Hawks' 118-115 victory over New York Knickerbockers and Detroit's 92-75 setback by Cincinnati's Royals was responsible for the shift in the standings.

The Hawks, who dropped into the runnerup spot Sunday night, had to rally in the second half to overcome the Knicks in the feature of Tuesday night's doubleheader in St. Louis. The winners outscored New York 66-56 in the second half.

Bob Pettit, as usual, was the St. Louis star. He scored 38 points and had help from Win Wilfong, Jack McMahon and Ed Macauley as the Hawks snapped a 101-101 deadlock with five minutes to go and wrapped it up. Richie Guerin, playing his first game of the season, was high for the losers with 20 points. He had been out with a fractured thumb.

Carmen Basilio has a fine record against middleweights. The champion has won 7 times and fought 2 draws against middleweights, land.

He hit .251 and was out part of the season with a hand injury after joining the A's.

Tighe said just 10 days ago, "Martin is my kind of ballplayer. We need a guy like him and I think he'd hit .275 for us."

Palestine's Bell Captures Tri-County Scoring Crown

East Palestine's 190-pound junior fullback, Beau Bell, easily ran away with the Tri-County scoring race this past season. The Bulldog line cracker scored 12 touchdowns and four extra points in league play for 76 points. The feat enabled him to win by 10 points over Ken Warrick of Columbiana, who finished in the second slot with 66 points on 10 TDs and six conversions.

The Clipper back ended the season in a blaze of glory by notching all four of his team's scores in last week's 26-12 win over Louisville.

In the third position was Bill Keyser of Louisville. He had nine touchdowns for 54 points.

The remaining members in the top five were fourth place Oren Liber of Lisbon and fifth finishing Frank Kolesar of Poland. Liber racked up 49 points on eight scores and one conversion while Kolesar pocketed 44 markers on seven scores and two extra points.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS L. LIDE

Hunting pressure seems to be a little heavier this year than I had observed in previous years. The majority of the hunters could be termed "conservationists" judging from the hunter bad checks of what was seen and what was taken.

The two day tabulations of hunters contacted in this county runs as follows: 96 hunters contacted, hunted 348 hours, saw 233 pheasants, 214 rabbits and 437 quail. The kill was 32 pheasants and 54 rabbits.

That means only 86 pheasants and rabbits were taken by the 96 hunters contacted. One hunter I contacted on the second day finally bagged a rabbit after repeated misses. I also observed a rabbit running straight away from a group of three hunters into a groundhog hole, unhurt.

People who think we have a shortage of quail should note that hunters saw over twice as many quail as they did rabbits and nearly twice as many quail as pheasants. This seems to jibe with the statement a Pennsylvania hunter told me on the opening day of their small game season. He said the quail outnumbered other game along the Pennsylvania-Ohio line. The main difference is Ohio quail are songbirds while Pennsylvania quail are game birds.

DOING A BIT of straight patrol work on Saturday, I heard shooting just over a ridge. I took a walk over and saw a beagle run down a crippled hen pheasant. I took the bird from the dog when one of the nearby hunters asked me what it was.

Since he asked a foolish question, I have a foolish answer and said it was a "grouse." I then said whoever shot it should step up and claim it. There were six glances and one fellow said some hunters below them shot it. He said it came running past them and their dog caught it.

At any rate, if any one of the hunters had claimed it, this would have been a pretty expensive bird. It would cost approximately $7.50 per pound in fines and court costs. In case of deliberate violations, the fine runs much higher than that. One determining factor why game exists or does not exist can be observed by noticing the many barren fields. Where grainfields existed up until the fall harvest, they were as bare as a ball park afterwards.

One farmer told me and W. L. Smith of East Liverpool was a witness when he made the statement, that pheasants had caused him lots of damage but that he got even during the mowing activities. He said the mower cut lots of their legs and heads off and he wasn't a bit sorry.

A FLUSHING BAR would have saved a lot of birds but this particular farmer had no use for wildlife and he cared very little who hunted as long as they stayed back in the fields and away from his buildings.

Something I just heard over the air while this is being written; a Mahoning County hunter shot a rabbit and when he retrieved it it had a $20 bill in its mouth.

One group of hunters were taking time out for lunch when they noticed some water cross growing in a spring fed stream. They garnished their limburger sandwiches with water cross and munched away on their sandwiches, bugs and all.

To Try For Triple Slam

Michigan State to Compete In NCAA Cross Country Run

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State will try for a triple slam in cross country here Monday.

The Spartan linebacks, already winners of the Big Ten and ICA team titles, are favored in the 19th annual NCAA cross country run. State also is defending team champion.

A strong field of 27 runners from 46 schools is expected for the four mile endurance grind over the campus course.

Toughest competition is expected to come from Notre Dame, Kansas, Texas, Houston, Iowa and Illinois.

Notre Dame won the Central Collegiate and was runnerup to State in the ICA. Iowa and Illinois ran second and third in the Big Ten meet, Kansas is the Big Eight champ and Texas and Houston both rate as Southwest powers.

Individual title-holder is Walter McNew of Texas, who will be running again this year. McNew won last year in a good time of 19:55.7.

Crawford Kennedy of Michigan State, individual winner in the ICA; Bud Edelen of Minnesota, who edged Kennedy in the Big Ten; Tom Skurka of Kansas, Dale Vandenberg of Notre Dame and John Macy and Jerry Smartt of Houston figure to push the defending champion.

O'Connell Brown Tops In Specialities

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Cleveland Browns' one-two punchers—runner Jimmy Brown and passer Tommy O'Connell—are tops in their specialities, the latest National Football League statistics disclosed today.

Brown, workhorse of the Cleveland backfield, replaced Los Angeles' Tom Wilson as the pro's No. 1 ground gainer. The former Syracuse All-America gained 68 yards in the 30-30 tie with Washington Sunday and took over the lead with a total 532 yards on 130 attempts for a 4.1 average.

Wilson, who had led the runners since the start of the season, managed only 2 yards against Green Bay last week and fell to second place with 525 yards on 106 carries and a 5-yard average. Hugh McElhenny, San Francisco, retained third place with 467 yards on 101 attempts, a 4.6 average.

O'Connell remained on top in the passing department for the second straight week. The former Illinois ace now has completed 58 for 94 for 1,027 yards, six touchdowns passes and a 10.9 average. Eddie LeBaron, the tiny Washington quarterback, is runnerup with a record of 64 for 104, 1,048 yards, 8 TDs, and an average of 10 yards per pass. Baltimore's John Unitas holds third place with 101 for 130, 1,530 yards, 13 TDs, and an 8.5 average.

Greene Leads For Individual Offense Title

NEW YORK (AP)—Lee Grosscup, Utah's passing wizard has moved into the thick of the fight for the individual offense championship among major college football players.

In 20th place two weeks ago, Grosscup has moved into the No. 3 spot behind Tommy Greene of Holy Cross and Bob Newman of Washington State, NCAA Service Bureau statistics revealed today.

Greene has 1,323 running-passing yardage followed by Newman with 1,254 and Grosscup, 1,231. The Utah star put together a two game total of 556 yards against Army and the Air Force Academy in the last two weeks. Each has one game left to play.

Leon Burton of Arizona State has taken over the rushing lead from Bob Stransky of Colorado, who fell to third behind Army's Bob Anderson. But there's less than a single first down separating them. Burton has netted 967 yards on the ground, Anderson 965 and Stransky 960.

Burton, whose remarkable 10.1-yard average for each of his 96 tries is in a class by itself, has two more games remaining. Anderson and Stransky each have one.

Pass-completion honors are shared by Grosscup, Newman and Drake's Roger LaBrasca.

Grosscup has a completion average of .694 by far the high mark. His completed aeriels also have covered the most distance, 1,327 yards. Newman leads in total completions with 90 and Grosscup close behind with 86 and Bob Winters of Utah State third with 84.

LaBrasca has ended his season with 12 touchdowns, one more than Newman, Greene and Ken Ford of Hardin-Simmons. LaBrasca reached his total in seven games, missing one while sidelined with the flu.

U. S. Road Program Intensifies Downtown Business Problem

CLEVELAND (AP)—What affect will the new express highways being built in many cities have on the central business district?

One expert on city planning said today the challenge to the central business district "that came with the motor age and the great suburban growth of the last couple

"Whether the new radial highways will bolster the declining CBD (central business district) will depend on whether they really do increase its accessibility to outlying areas. Doubling the radial capacity for moving autos will mean nothing unless there are more parking places at the downtown end of the journey."

In a speech prepared for a session of the 63rd national conference on government of the National Municipal League, Howard suggested that "saving downtown" means saving mass transit, adding:

"We may be able to find ways to make use of the highway program, not to continue in ruthless competition with transit and thus hasten its decline—but to complement transit, and even to contribute to its improvement and revival."

He said highways and transit should be treated as elements of a "single system for moving people, not as two independent systems. In most cities, effective cooperation between the two elements cannot be expected, he continued, until both highway and transit agencies are required to submit to a higher authority with metropolitan jurisdiction, "a type of authority that does not now exist in this country."

Howard Pyle, deputy assistant to President Eisenhower, was to speak at a luncheon of the conference, which winds up today.

Mahoning Scout Council Committees Will Meet

Members of all operating committees of the Mahoning Valley Council of Boy Scouts will assemble Dec. 4 at the Stambaugh Scout Reservation to develop the plan for achievement for 1958.

Eighteen troops have registered to attend the camp next year, with more expected by the first of the year.

Paul Reinbolt of the National Council met recently with members of the professional staff and the Council leadership training committee.

Dr. J. Fred Essig has been appointed to serve as chairman of the nomination committee of the Council. G. Taylor Evans, past president, will also serve on the committee.

3 Union Men Convicted Of Malicious Attacks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Three members of an electrical union on strike against the Hertner Electric Co. of nearby Strongsville were convicted Tuesday night of throwing rocks and splashing creosote on the homes of non-strikers.

Fined $200 each and given suspended 30-day jail sentences by Strongsville Mayor William Thompson for malicious destruction of property were Corrine Pendleton of Brecksville and Mr. and Mrs. William Hetrick of Valley City, Medina County.

The International Union of Electrical Workers struck the Hertner plant July 1. The company hired new employees and reopened the plant during the strike.

County Holds CROP Week Observance

LISBON — Christian Rural Overseas Program observance is being held in Columbiana County today through Nov. 30. On CROP Sunday, Nov. 24, the importance of the campaign will be recognized in all county churches.

CROP week climaxes preparations by the county CROP organization for a concerted food gift appeal. Contributions from Columbiana County will be added to those from all counties in Ohio, and will be sent overseas through church world services.

Announcement of CROP week was made by the county CROP chairman, Rev. Frank Hare. Since early this year the local CROP committee has been working to set up machinery for the ingathering of locally grown foodstuffs and to set up facilities to give everyone in Columbiana County an opportunity to contribute. CROP seeks staple food which can be exported.

The Christian Rural Overseas Program in Ohio is sponsored by the State Council of Churches on behalf of all major denominations. However, contributors may designate their contribution for distribution overseas by any recognized voluntary agency for foreign relief. National CROP headquarters in Elkhart, Ind., will see to it that these contributions are channeled through the agency of the donor's choice.

CROP is the major Protestant agency for the collection of food relief in the United States. Overseas, gifts through CROP are handled by native church agencies or by representatives of Church World Service.

In its case is distribution based on religious beliefs or membership in any one race. Need is the only factor determining eligibility for receipt of food.

O'Neill Predicts Cut In Cost of Government

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill predicted here Tuesday night that modern business methods, involving the use of mechanized equipment, will cut operating cost of Ohio government.

The governor, speaking at the annual management night of the Hamilton Personnel Assn., said the whole payroll accounting of the state has been mechanized. He said machines will speed up check preparation.

Grand Jury Indicts Man For Embezzlement

BRYAN, Ohio (AP)—Four indictments, charging a former Williams County treasurer, Garland A. Beck, with embezzling $7,068 in office funds, were returned by the county grand jury Tuesday.

Prosecutor William Weaver said he will ask for dismissal of an earlier indictment, charging Beck with embezzling a little more than $4,000, so that the former treasurer can be arraigned on the new indictments.

The 55-year-old Beck, a former county Republican chairman, resigned Sept. 25 when a state examiner reported a shortage of $4,034.32 in the treasurer's funds. He was indicted the following day, later pleaded innocent and was freed on $10,000 bond, awaiting trial Nov. 25.

Williams will ask for cancellation of the trial and when Beck is arraigned on the new indictments, he will be required to post bond again, the prosecutor added.

Six Children Die In Second-Story Fire

DETROIT (AP)—Six little children died Tuesday in the smoke and flame of a fire that swept the second-story flat occupied by a Negro family of 18.

About 15 minutes before the fire broke out, Mrs. Lucille Sanders, 33, mother of five of the children, went to a neighbor's house to use the phone. Other members of the family were away.

Returning to find her home ablaze, she screamed, "Oh my God! My babies!"

Prevented from entering the house, she collapsed and was treated for shock.

Dead on arrival at Receiving Hospital were Brenda, 6; LaDonald, 4; Calvin, 3; Algertha, 12; Carlton, 6 months; and a 6-month old grandchild, Ronald.

Firemen said an explosion of gas from a coal stove in the small parlor started the flash fire.

Good glaze for a boneless pork shoulder butt: a half cup of light brown sugar mixed with a little tarragon vinegar — just enough to moisten the sugar.
